THE WAGES OF SIN

George Munnick and Ida Montgomery Principals in Awful Tragedy.

CAUSED BY JEALOUS RAGE

Woman Fatally Shot and Murderer Turns Revolver Upon Himself.

Two inquests were the result of Saturday afternoon's ghastly tragedy in which George Munnick, otherwise known as George Albert, frenzied with jealousy, shot Ida Montgomery, a notorious local sporting woman, in her rooms above 1323 1/2 Second avenue and then killed himself with the same revolver by sending a heavy 38 calibre bullet into his brain. The woman died at St. Anthony's hospital at 11 o'clock Saturday night, but it seems quite remarkable that life lasted even for that length of time, as the bullet, which struck at the month, broke the lower jaw in three places, then passed out of the neck just above the larynx, again an inch lower, partially severing the wind-pipe, finally lodging near the spine, causing the fracture of the laminae of the fifth and sixth cervical vertebrae.

Verdicts of the Jury.
The inquest over the body of Munnick was held Saturday night at Knox's undertaking rooms, the jury impaneled bringing in a verdict of death being due to a bullet from a 38 calibre Smith & Wesson revolver fired with suicidal intent. The jurors were Louis G. Eddy, Frank Westby, Ray Edwards, Oscar Hildebrandt, Ed Byrnes and Thomas Irwin.

The death of the woman made another inquest imperative and it was held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the same place. Dr. C. T. Foster and Mame Dolan, the other inmate of the house at the time of the shooting, were the witnesses examined. The doctor testified to the nature of the injuries, while the Dolan woman told about the trouble which had existed between the slayer and the slain. The verdict was death due to a bullet wound received at the hands of Munnick, with murderous intent.

Bodies Are Claimed.
John Munnick, of Davenport, who is Munnick's step-father, claimed the body, and it was taken to Davenport yesterday morning, where it will be buried.

A brother of Ida Montgomery's came to Knox's yesterday morning and made arrangements for the burial of her body. He is also a resident of Davenport. It is said that the woman also had a number of relatives in Rock Island and Moline, but if there were any they failed to make themselves known, as the brother was the only one to put in a claim for the body. According to Mame Dolan, the woman with whom she had been living the past few months, all the relatives are eminently respectable in every way.

How It Happened.
The murder and suicide took place about 5 o'clock. Munnick having come to the place evidently prepared for the crime, as the revolver was carefully loaded and an additional box of cartridges was afterwards found in his pocket.

The first intimation that anything was wrong was when a shot was heard above Williamson's second hand store immediately across the street from the postoffice. A moment later and the stair door opened and the Dolan woman rushed out into the street shrieking and screaming. Ida Montgomery reeled down the steps a moment later, frenzied hands tearing at her dripping mouth and neck. She staggered into the second hand store and collapsed into a chair. A doctor was sent for, but it was some time before one could be procured.

A Ghastly Scene.
The scene in the store was one that beggars description. At that time it was not known that Munnick had shot himself and all attention was being paid to the injured woman. The blood from her wounds had covered her clothing, hands and arms, and in her huddle of rags she looked more like a hurt animal than a human being. The Dolan creature was in a hysterical frenzy and was crying out wildly that "Ida had been killed."

A large crowd had gathered and pressed about the door in a morbid desire to get inside. Owing to the nature of her injury it was some time before the sufferer was able to talk, but at no time did she lose consciousness.

Munnick's Body Found.
Shortly after Officer Ferrel arrived, and accompanied by the Dolan woman went up stairs to see what had become of Munnick. The entry was necessarily a cautious one, as it was known that the man had been heavily armed. But on opening the door the fact was revealed that he was past all danger, as he lay on the floor, the revolver at his feet and a bullet hole in his right temple. He was roughly clad in coarse working clothes and a sweater. His heart was beating slightly when the officer felt of him, but life was just about extinct. The squalor of the place made the scene doubly depressing. No effort was made to remove the body until it was taken by Undertaker Knox at 6 o'clock.

Thought Not Seriously Hurt.

When Dr. C. T. Foster arrived the injured woman was able to walk back up stairs and get some of her things preparatory to going to the hospital. She thought she was not seriously hurt and was able to talk in an audible manner. She was taken to the hospital in the ambulance, while the other woman, Mame Dolan, was taken to the police station to be held as a witness at the coroner's inquest over the body of Munnick. The medical examination at the hospital revealed the fact that the injuries were fatal and at 11 o'clock death took place, shortly after the performance of the autopsy for the removal of the bullet. The severing of the wind-pipe and the injuries to the vertebrae were the cause of the fatality.

Cause of the Affair.
Munnick had lived with the woman irregularly for nine months. While she was in jail during her recent indictment by the grand jury he continued to stay at the place. She was released from jail and her $360 fine about a month ago on condition that she lead a moral life. This she promised to do. She ordered Munnick to leave. He returned, however, from time to time and made trouble for her. She finally appealed to Magistrate Johnson. He advised her to have the man put under peace bond. She refused to do so, and only a short time ago he appeared at the place and assaulted the Dolan woman, her eyes still being black from the beating she received. A warrant was made out against him and he left for Davenport. Previous to this time he had been employed at the Rock Island Sash & Door works.

Returned Saturday.
Saturday afternoon he returned to Rock Island and went up to the place, first entering the room of Mame Dolan. The other woman was in there at the time. He asked her to step into the other room with him, as he had something to say to her. She went, but came back almost immediately. Munnick had asked her to go to Davenport with him. She refused. With the words "You won't live with me, will you?" he turned and fired, the bullet striking her in the lower jaw.

The presumption is that Munnick shot himself as soon as the woman had escaped, although no one is positive as to hearing the report.

A Worthless Character.

Munnick seems to have been about 27 years old and has consorted with evil women most of his days. His wife, Mame Woods, is the proprietor of a house of ill-fame in Davenport. He has not lived with her for some time.

The Montgomery woman is about 40 years old and has been in her disgraceful business here for about fifteen years.

Severe Attack of Grip Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Perry had bid me adieu." FAITH IN HARES

Company Incorporates at Macon, Mo., to Raise the Animals.

IN BUSINESS ON LARGE SCALE

Official in Interview Declares Revival of Industry is at Hand.

So far as this part of North America is concerned the Belgian hare appears to be done for. Those living hereabout who saw in the little animal such promise of easy money a few years back are now all out of the business, having given up the attempt to make a success of rabbit raising in disgust.

However, there are still those in the middle west who have faith in the Belgian hare and who are ready to risk capital in going into the business extensively. The headquarters of the Eastern Importing & Breeding company have recently been removed from Belfast, Maine, to Macon, Mo., and R. J. Finley placed in charge as treasurer and general manager. E. F. Hanson, of Chicago, is the president. The organization is capitalized for $100,000, and its sole commodity is Belgian hares. The reason for the company's change of base was to get nearer the center of the country and to get ready for an elaborate exhibit of Belgian hares at the St. Louis world's fair. Some hares have arrived for which $400 has been offered and refused.

Mr. Finley Talks.

Said Mr. Finley in a recent interview: "The Belgian hare craze is over now, and the business has got down to a solid basis. For a while the little animal was abused and vilified from one end of the country to the other as a foe to farmers and a general nuisance. But that was by people who did not understand it. The hare is nothing like the American rabbit. It doesn't get into a field and destroy grain."

"It is happiest when cooped up, and has no desire to roam. It is the cleanest animal known, and its meat is delicious. The world's fair, we hope, will give us an opportunity to demonstrate to the American people just what the Belgian hare is and its value. You will find that in a few years the raising of Belgian hares will surpass poultry as a money-making business."

$10,000 TO BE DISTRIBUTED

The St. Louis Republic Offers Fourteen Splendid Rewards to Subscribers.

An interesting announcement appears in that great metropolitan newspaper, The St. Louis Republic, in the form of a profit sharing offer to anyone now a subscriber or willing to become a subscriber of The Republic. A big sum of $10,000.00 is to be paid in rewards for good judgment and skill. It is possible to earn all the way from $10.00 to $5,000.00.

The Republic's subscribers are invited to estimate upon the number of admissions to the World's Fair grounds upon the occasion of the grand dedicatory ceremonies, April 30, 1903, of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The subscriber whose estimate comes nearest to the official record will receive $5,000, the next one will get $2,500, and an additional sum of $2,500 will be divided in rewards ranging from $1,000 down to $10.00 among those whose estimates most nearly approximate the official record of admissions. A payment of $7.50 will provide for the delivery of the Daily and Sunday Republic for not less than one year, or $6 will pay for six annual subscriptions to the Twice-a-week Republic, and if the remittance is received on or before 4 p. m. of April 29, 1903, the person sending it can make six estimates. More estimates may be made by extending a subscription beyond one year, or by organizing clubs and inducing others to subscribe.

Complete information as to the conditions of this contest, together with blanks will be found in the Daily, Sunday and Twice-a-week editions of The Republic from April 2 until April 29, 1903, or will be mailed to any one upon application. All communications and estimates should be addressed to The Republic Profit-Sharing Bureau, Call Box 201, St. Louis, Mo.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters. To my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed at Hartz & Ullemeyer's drug store.
